As I listened to President Bush deliver the State of the Union, I could not help but compare his reality with the reality back home in San Jose, Milpitas, and the Bay Area in general.